WORLD SHOW SYMPOSIUM FOR CURRENT JUDGES Cost: $20 Pre-pay Online

Attention all EXCA Judges attending this year's World Show: you are invited to attend this learning opportunity designed just for you. Pete Fraser, the EXCA's Director of Judges and Judging, promises a very focused 2-hour session full of information, appropriate direction, updates, problem solving, strategies and answers to your specific "moments of truth" questions - all targeted on assuring our competitors a strong core of judging options.

Attendance will be a valuable investment of time for any EXCA Judge - regardless of current level and/or experience.

General outline of topics to be covered:

- Specific rules, interpretations, exceptions - the ones that our competitors most complain about consistency and fairness
- Ensuring an accurate, appropriately comparable and fair "reporting of the news" through the judges' obstacle scores
- Working with your judging partners and scribes - maximizing success and agreement
- When judges disagree (there is no such thing as "the senior judge" breaking the tie)
- Bad habits to rid yourself of - next obstacle hangover; opting for comfort overview; reading belt buckles; "my show, my rules"; Santa Clause scores
- Accepting the parameters of your authority and responsibilities
- Strategies for managing challenging situations/competitors/sideline judges
- Using specific word descriptors to bring meaning and consistency to the numerical scores they are meant to reflect

- Best practices and obligations for conducting the walkthroughs
- The pros and cons of tweaking obstacles during walkthroughs
- The all-important horsemanship score
- Notes if you chose, but they better be very meaningful and
- Balancing degree of difficulty and minor errors
- Tack and apparel issues
- Best practices, meaningful scores, positive experiences for our valued exhibitors, how to get better/not stale
- Lots of time for “what should I have done” case studies

We know this is a very busy time for you. We will try very hard to stay within the 2 hours we are asking of your time and attention. We will also commit to continuing informal discussions afterwards with any individuals that have additional or private questions.

IN ADDITION, attendees at this special Judges Symposium will be given priority for time slots IF they chose to participate in Shadow Judging opportunities at the Show. The shadow judging program offers an opportunity to work in the arena with Pete Fraser - testing your scores, learning on the go, and putting your knowledge and skills to the test in a live World Show setting. At minimum you'll learn where you stand or what you might need to concentrate on or “tweak” (even the best and most experienced judges can often benefit from structured tweak); at maximum you can use it as an important opportunity to show you are ready to be considered for a move to a higher level and/or consideration/recommendation for bigger shows. Some longer sessions may be offered, but in most cases a session consists of 25-30 runs. Prospective judges may also be offered available opportunities. Generally, 1-3 shadow judges are assigned to a session ...depending on individual preference.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Jim Ochs
Kansas, USA

Fun FACTS

- Jim spent his career in education as a teacher and then a principal.
- He is an EXCA World Champion.
- He has a passion for training bird dogs, in particular Vizslas.
- He and his wife, Joyce, will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary next year!

Mr. Jim Ochs is an accomplished rider with a great love for his family, friends, and horses. I had the opportunity to sit and visit with Mr. Ochs away from the hustle and bustle of the Calgary Stampede when he was there to compete in 2023. I could have planted myself in that foldable lawn chair along the barn aisle listening to his stories for hours. He and his sweet wife, Joyce, are the kind of people you meet and instantly love! He is multifaceted and inspirational. As the week in Calgary came to a close, Mr. Ochs knew my husband, Cole, was soon heading to Kansas to work and that I (being 8 months pregnant) was deciding whether I would tag along or head home. He said if I came I was always welcome to his house to stay cool and he would love to take us to dinner. Some people say those things out of being polite, but Mr. Ochs meant it. His kind spirit and warm personality had an impact on me, as I am sure it has on many of you who have had the pleasure of knowing him for far longer than I have.

His biography was far too good to even consider cutting it down to fit into this text box, so it is included in the post text! It is worth a read to say the least!

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Trevor J. Mertes
Alberta, Canada

A good portion of Trevor Mertes' life has been riding range for different ranches across western Canada and the US, where true cowboying still exists. Riding 30 + miles pushing cattle and riding back home without a fence line in sight was a standard day of work.

Fun FACTS

- In addition to horses, white water sports are his main go-to! He has a love for white water rafting and white water canoeing, but fly-fishing, rock climbing and hiking are up there in his books as well - depending on the day. For a portion of his life he was a white water raft guide as well as a wilderness survival guide, teaching others how to survive in the Canadian wilderness.
- One of the things people are most surprised to find out is that he didn't grow up in the saddle, as most would think. Although, by jr. high, as he was working on family friends' farms and knew he wanted to ranch. It wasn't until he was 20 that he really started riding and spending every day in the saddle on working cattle ranches. Prior to that, he'd maybe ridden a half-dozen times. So for those that say they "started riding later in life" let this be a lesson to not take no as an answer - learn and apply all you can to your goal/focus in life!

More recently though, he's been competing in Extreme Cowboy Challenges where he applies his style of horsemanship and consistently places in the Green Horse and Pro Divisions. In November 2018 and 2019 he went down to compete in the EXCA World Finals and placed in the top 20. His Extreme Cowboy reputation has been growing and has led him to provide a number of clinics across Canada and the USA. In fact, Trevor is currently the leading Extreme Cowboy clinician in Canada, putting on around 25 plus specific extreme cowboy clinics a year (8 months of the year on the road for clinics) as well as putting on and organizing Extreme Cowboy races at a variety of fairs and events across Western Canada.

His success as a clinician earned him an invitation to compete in 'Colt Starting Challenge USA' in February 2020 in Denver, Colorado where he placed very well overall. In addition, he has participated in other 3-day colt starting competitions at horse expo's in western Canada over the past few years. Most recently, he placed 6th in the world at the Extreme Cowboy World Finals 2022, in the pro division, on his stallion Drifter. This accomplishment awarded him the spot of the top ranked Canadian in the division. In 2023 at the EXCA World Finals, he placed 4th in the Super Pro Division and top 10 in the Open Division on Drifter.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Natasha Webber
Queensland, Australia

Natasha has been a proud EXCA member since 2017 and is one of the greatest ambassadors of the sport. With a little help from Naomi Lee and Cole Cameron, she was able to introduce the sport of Extreme Cowboy Racing to the Fraser Coast, Queensland. Interest grew quickly, which saw the formation of Southern Cross Xtreme Cowboy Racing in 2019. Impressively, the club she created with a few friends has now grown to over 200 members in 5 years. Natasha holds a Level One Judge Certification with EXCA. She thoroughly enjoys judging and being at ground level watching riders and the partnerships they have with their horses. In addition to judging, Natasha competes at the intermediate level. Like many of us, she says she is still finding her way as a competitor. When out on the course she enjoys the rush of adrenaline and especially enjoys the flow of obstacles. She loves her journey with her heart horse Jarrah and is looking forward to creating more partnerships with a couple of other horses she has.

Fun FACTS

- Natasha is originally from New Zealand, she has been living in Australia for 17 years.
- Her favourite obstacle as a rider and Judge is the Ground Tie.
- She has assisted in the creation of 4 Cowboy Racing clubs within Queensland and Northern Territory.
- She is on the International Advisory Panel, so she is always available to help with anything EXCA!

NOTE - CLARIFICATION ABOUT POINTS AND ADMINISTRATION FEES

We would like to clarify the concept of "paying for points" or "riding for points". According to the EXCA rulebook, there is no such practice.

Per the EXCA rulebook, an EXCA-affiliated club must pay an administration fee for each entry at an EXCA-sanctioned race. Specifically, "EXCA shall receive a $10.00 per entry administration fee." For international races, EXCA charges $5 per entry.

Additionally, please note the following rules:

- All sanctioned EXCA events in the US must have a minimum of 10 current EXCA members.
- All international events must have a minimum of 5 current EXCA members to be sanctioned.

Please keep these rules in mind for future reference.
